

About Next Century Cities

NEXT CENTURY CITIES

DEB SOCIA

MOVING TOWARD A
GIGABIT STATE

MAY 4, 2015

| Connecting Communities

Principles

1. High-Speed Internet Is Necessary Infrastructure
 2. The Internet Is Nonpartisan
 3. Communities Must Enjoy Self-Determination
 4. High-Speed Internet Is a Community-Wide Endeavor
 5. Meaningful Competition Drives Progress
 6. Collaboration Benefits All
-

Resources for Cities

Support Our Cities

- Connecting cities and experts
- Strengthening broadband coalition

Equipping City Officials

- Monthly members' calls on broadband-related topics
- Resource toolkits

Elevating City Voices

- Press opportunities for cities
- Event platforms

| Connecting Communities

What Cities Think

What Our Members Are Saying:

- “NCC has been a great resource for my community and membership in the group has far exceeded our expectations.”
- “I'm proud to be a part of NCC.”
- “I believe what NCC is providing is very useful to any city looking at doing what we have already done, and certainly wish we would have had NCC around during our battles and start-up.”

When asked via survey, nearly every member city staff member found Next Century Cities to be a valuable asset.

Our Members

Next Century Cities is proud to work with 87 partner communities across the country

Thank You!

NEXT CENTURY
CITIES | Connecting Communities

Connecting Communities